Effective Training is engaging. Short. Relatable. It is persistent, reinforcing key concepts regularly. Mimecast Awareness Training is all that and then some. People don't "like" our 3-minute modules: they love them. They ask for more. They print T-shirts based on our characters. Most important: They stay engaged.

This nearly cult-like adoration is not what you expect from security awareness training. It happens because our videos are scripted by world-class comedy writers and performed by actors who are spectacularly right for their roles. And the topics we cover, shaped with the help of top CISOs, leverage threat intelligence from the Mimecast grid, ensuring that our training helps reduce risk from the most urgent issues facing security professionals today.
